

FIRST PART

The main ideas from this video, we can group into four:

- Firstly, how to be a good manager?, Jensen focuses on continuing learning at the same time we lead others and always stay focused in our environment.
- Second, how to run a company?, for that question, Jensen gave us some question, like, what is our company is about?, is a creative project?, who is the market like?.
- Third, his leadership, to which he immediately responds with a sincere "is just me".
- Fourth and the most important in my opinion, that we have to trust our intuition, not to give up and exploit failures.

SECOND PART

Joel Hellenmark was raised in Tokyo, is now 26 years old, but started coding at thirteen, at fourteen founded a company that recommends videos. At nineteen made an IA that it is called Sana, this project collected 62 million dollars to be create and help big companies to provide resources to employees, like sum up and translate data.